

Christmas Week Greeted by Special Church Music

Ancient Songs and Carols Again to Burst Forth in City's Temples—Many Congregations Reserve Observance of Season Until Sunday After Christmas.

Christmas week begins to-morrow, many New York churches will anticipate the coming of Christmas Day by giving special musical programmes at their services. As most of the churches of high rank and instrumental music will be employed at many Christmas services, as in former years. The programmes will include most of the old-time carols and Christmas hymns.
